Safety and Operating Instructions

WARNING: FAILURE TO PROPERLY FOLLOW THESE SAFETY WARNINGS AND INSTRUCTIONS COULD RESULT IN FIRE OR EXPLOSION, WHICH COULD CAUSE PROPERTY DAMAGE, PERSONAL INJURY OR DEATH.

Safety Highlights

(Read detailed information below)

- KEEP OUT OF REACH OF CHILDREN AND PETS
- LOCATE LIQUID PROPANE TANK 3 FEET FROM BURNER
- COOL DOWN BURNER POT AND OIL BEFORE STORING
- NEVER HEAT OIL OVER 400°F (204°C)
- DO NOT REMOVE REGULATOR OR POT WITHOUT FIRST TURNING OFF LIQUID PROPANE TANK
- BURNER MUST BE TURNED OFF AT THE LIQUID PROPANE TANK AND DISCONNECTED WHEN NOT IN USE

DO NOT
- use or operate a burner until you have read and thoroughly understand the operating instructions and safety warnings.
- place anything on burner that weighs more than 150 pounds.
- use lid while deep frying.
- remove hot oil or water from burner until it cools to room temperature.
- leave pot and/or burner unattended while cooking or during cool down period.
- use on a wooden surface including decks and picnic tables. ALWAYS place unit on a flat, fireproof and stable surface.
- light the burner until after you have checked all liquid propane gas connections for leaks. Check for leaks by spreading a thin layer of soapy water on each connection - leaks can be detected by bubbles that form in the soap film. Never operate this cooker when there are gas leaks.
- use burner as a space heater or for any purpose other than cooking food.
- store propane near flame, pilot lights, other ignition sources or where temperatures exceed 120°F (49°C).
- Replace protective cap on cylinder after detaching cylinder from burner.
- cook in the rain. If it rains while cooking with oil, cover the pot immediately. Turn the propane tank off first and then turn the burner regulator to the off position.
- use pliers on brass fittings. Use the appropriate size wrench.
- use the burner indoors or within any structure. For outdoor use only. Use only in well ventilated areas.
- use the burner in any area where temperatures exceed 120°F (49°C).
- inspect burner and propane connections for damage, dirt and debris before attaching the burner to the liquid propane gas tank. Inspect all gaskets for signs of damage before use. Check hoses, connections and gas jets for insects and insect nests.
- shut off the propane tank and leave the area immediately if you smell gas. Propane is heavier than air and will accumulate in low places. Only return to the area after it has time to ventilate. If you still smell gas, call your local fire department for assistance.
- use a long electric lighter or long-stem match when lighting. Insert the electric lighter through a hole in the wind shield and place it over the burner before opening the regulator. Do not allow your hand, any other body part, hair, fabric or clothing to be over the gas jets on the burner when lighting. If the burner does not light, turn off the gas supply and wait at least five minutes before attempting to light again. Do not attempt to re-light if you smell gas. If the burner goes out during operation, first turn the liquid propane gas tank off and then the burner regulator off.
- clean burner after use to avoid oil and grease build-up and the possibility of a grease fire.
- store refillable propane containers outside in a protected, ventilated area - never inside a house, camper or tent.
- keep a Class ABCD dry chemical fire extinguisher readily available.

Deep Fried Turkey - A Cajun Tradition

For years, deep frying turkey and other poultry has been a closely kept secret of Cajun chefs and world famous Cajun restaurants. Deep-frying with injectable marinades is the best tasting, most exciting way to prepare turkey and other poultry. The hot oil sears the skin on contact, sealing in the natural juices and flavor while sealing out the oil, making the meat moist, tender and succulent. Eastman Outdoors flavored marinades are spiced with Tabasco® brand Pepper Sauce and provide a variety of great flavors steeped in the southern tradition, from mild Bayou Buttery Gold to the bold and hot Cajun Garlic Avalanche.

Cooking is as simple as injecting the marinade with Eastman’s Monster Marinade Injector, then lowering the bird into hot oil for 3½ minutes per pound. No other cooking method can give you moist, succulent turkey in such a short amount of time. The aroma and exciting, bold flavors will have your guests begging for seconds and thirds.

Turkey Preparation

Eastman Outdoors Deep Fry Turkey Pots and propane burners can cook a bird weighing up to 16 pounds. Turkey must be completely thawed and dry inside and out. Neck and giblets must also be removed.

To determine the correct amount of oil to use when frying, place the turkey on the stand and place in the pot. Add water until it reaches 1 to 2 inches above the turkey. Remove the turkey and note the water level. Pour out the water and dry the pot and turkey thoroughly.

Flavor Injection

The Eastman Outdoors 12-port Monster Marinade Injector is specially designed for injecting marinades into turkeys and other poultry. Diagram A indicates the suggested places where the marinade should be injected for optimum flavor distribution. Although you can simply inject marinade into the meat by puncturing the skin, this results in the marinade and natural juices leaking from the bird during cooking. For best results, carefully lift the skin from the meat and insert the needle completely into the meat under the skin rather than through it. This will keep the marinade and natural juices from leaking out of the bird, as the skin is seared over the meat, sealing in the flavor. For maximum flavor, re-insert the needle into the meat in several directions in the same hole, as this will direct the marinade in different areas of the meat. Use as much marinade as you like, depending upon the amount of flavor you desire. The more you use, the more robust the flavor.

Once marinated, the turkey can be immediately cooked or put back in the refrigerator overnight for extra flavor.

Deep Frying Instructions

When ready to begin cooking, add oil to the turkey pot until it reaches the noted water level. Vegetable oil, cottonseed oil and other high-flash-point cooking oils can be used, but peanut oil is recommended because it cooks the best, has the highest flash point, is healthier and stays clear for a longer period of time.

Turn on the burner and heat the oil to 325 to 350 degrees Fahrenheit. Depending on the oil and burner used, this actually takes between 15-20 minutes. Use Eastman Outdoors’ long stemmed deep fry thermometer to prevent overheating and ensure proper cooking temperatures.

Be sure to read all warnings and carefully follow proper operating instructions provided with your Eastman Outdoors propane burner. Failure to follow the safety warnings and instructions properly could result in fire or explosion, which could cause property damage, personal injury or death.

Do not stuff turkeys before deep-frying. Do not use lid when deep-frying. To minimize splattering, you may use a screen splash cover. Always keep a fire extinguisher nearby in case of emergencies.

Once the oil has reached the correct temperature, place the turkey on the turkey stand. Using the lift hook provided with your turkey pot, SLOWLY lower the turkey into the oil. Insert the turkey partially and carefully, then remove, repeating the process further, approximately three or four times until the turkey is completely submerged. This does two things; first, it seals the turkey and second, it boils out the excess moisture and helps prevent the oil from boiling over. When placing the turkey in the oil and while cooking, oil will flow through the inside of the bird like a fountain. Some of the hot oil could splatter. Wear a long sleeve shirt, thick barbecue gloves and eye protection at all times. You may wish to wear a cooking apron to prevent oil from splattering onto your clothing.

When the turkey is placed in the oil, the temperature will drop. Slowly bring the oil temperature back to 325-350 degrees Fahrenheit. Never place the lid on the pot while cooking. This will cause the oil to get too hot.

Whole turkeys require approximately 3½ minutes per pound to cook. When the correct cooking time has elapsed, use the lift hook to carefully remove the turkey and stand. Lift the turkey above the oil and hold it long enough to allow excess oil to drain before removing it from the pot. Use a meat thermometer to check the temperature of the meat. The breast should register at least 170 degrees Fahrenheit and the thigh should be around 180 degrees Fahrenheit.

Place the turkey on absorbent towels for a few minutes to cool. Carve, serve and enjoy!
